

AN ADVENTURE AT SEA

BY ELIZABETH AND CHARLOTTE

A captain and two sisters were sailing on a boat at sea. A storm came, the captain rang the bell and yelled "save your lives." But it was too late. The big sister and little sister fell out of the boat into the water. They cried and cried, but the captain could not hear them.

A baby whale came and saved the sisters. The baby whale even brought two towels to dry the sisters' hairs. He carried the sisters to the shore and put them down. The sisters were saved!

Then the baby whale left and headed home. He accidentally bumped into a rock and hurt his tail. He cried for help. The two sisters heard and came. The big sister brought her purse. She took out a band-aid and put it on the baby whale's tail. And then the baby whale swam home back to his family.

On his way home, the baby whale saw the boat and the captain. The captain called for the baby whale. So the baby whale jumped on to the boat and happily discovered that his family was also on board. Then they happily ate chicken and bad fish. (Mom: "Why bad fish?" Charlotte: "They just like bad fish.")
